Vulcan, Alberta

Rainfall 1" to 2 1/2"

Harvesting Resumed After Last Week's Heavy Rains

Heavy rains Thursday night and Friday of last week hit all parts of the county, bringing harvesting operations to a halt. Precipitation measured from about one inch up to two and a half inches.

In the east and south parts of the county swathing is practically completed but north and west is only about half completed.

From two to five degrees of frost has been reported, mostly from Vulcan north and crops that are still green are expected to show some frost damage. At Travers, standing grain was badly damaged by strong winds.

Old Building To Be Replaced By New Cafe

One of Vulcan's oldest buildings, dating back to about 1912 or 1913, and in recent years housing the Marble Cafe, is now being demolished. Located on 2nd Ave. between Bassett's Jewellery and Robinson Stores, the frame and stucco building was considered past repair and will be replaced by a new structure.

The new building, size 34x60 feet, will be of cement block construction and is being built for the proprietors of the Marble Cafe to house a new, modern cafe. The new building is scheduled for occupancy late in November.

Contractor is Horst Thiering.

Election Set For Nov. 8

Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson on Tuesday of this week dissolved parliament and announced that a federal election would be held on Monday, Nov. 8.

The redistribution of federal electoral constituencies has not yet gone into effect, so — probably for the last time — the Macleod riding which includes this part of Southern Alberta will again elect a member.

Dr. Lawrence E. Kindt of Nanton, Progressive Conservative, is the present Member of Parliament for Macleod and he has already been nominated to again contest the seat. Ernie Patterson, mayor of Claresholm, has again been nominated as Social Credit candidate. The Liberal party has not yet held its nominating convention but is expected to name a candidate for this riding.

Hamilton Exchange Group Enjoys Week Of Western Hospitality

By now it's books, bedtime and bells for the young folk above. However just a few short weeks ago they were engulfed in their most joyous pursuit of many a summer... seeing as much of this broad expanse of prairie and towering mountains as time and physical being would permit.

Hosting the students personally were the following county students: Ina Haverty, Rose Ann Findlay, Betty Cockwill, Clara Ann Northcott, Valerie Graham, Marion Myers, Marilyn Webber, Anne Marie Gallagher, Marjorie Larkins, Beverly Budd, Marie Joyce Bolduc, Diane Atkins, Gordon Brown, Gordon Chandler, Kenneth Webber, Leonard McCord, Denis Burton, Bob Green, Leslie Armstrong, James Rupp, Jack Laycraft, Gerald Cutforth, Douglas Roe, Eric Hagedorn.

From the letters that have been exchanged since departure time Thursday Aug. 26, — and there have been many — it would appear that through the efforts of the sponsoring county and civic groups, the warm western friendship of this district's young folk and the natural contrasting appeal of countryside and mountains in this part of Alberta, the visitors arrived home again more than a little impressed.

From reaction of the county host students over the hectic days the same voice is raised, "We had a ball". This is demonstrative enough but provides only one line of descriptive copy.

Thank-you Note Received

Following is the text of a letter just received by County of Vulcan officials from the Hamilton group:

"Dear Sirs: Your county was wonderful in the contribution it made for our tour. The bus and transportation made it possible for us to enjoy Alberta while making friends with your students."

The banquet was a delight, especially meeting the officials who helped to make our tour so enjoyable. Everyone was thrilled by the trip to Banff. Imagine how excited we were when we saw the beautiful mountains.

Visiting the Hutterites enabled us to better understand their way of life and the horseback riding, water skiing and barbecues all contributed to make our trip more enjoyable.

The most rewarding experience was that of living with the people of Vulcan and district. In this way we learned that people are essentially the same everywhere. Living in cities ourselves we found the farming scene very interesting.

We all thank you for your kindness and hospitality and hope that we may see you again."

The young lady must have had her thought's westward as she signed her letter, "Yours truly, Cathy Ross, secretary, Centennial Tour No. 60, VULCAN, Alberta."

Traffic Act Change Now Effective Covering Wide Range Of Categories

There have been several changes to the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act of Alberta, (which is one of Alberta's Traffic Acts) effective July 1st, 1965. The following are some of the changes that will be of interest to a motor vehicle driver or owner:

An operator's license will not be issued to a person under the age of 18 unless the application is signed by a parent or guardian, or the person is self-supporting, or is married. If it is found that these stipulations are false, the Minister will cancel any license that had been issued.

When a trailer is being towed two rear view mirrors are required, one to be attached to each side of the towing vehicle to afford the driver a clear view of the roadway to the rear and to each side of the trailer.

When necessary to carry out their duties a fireman may drive and park a motor vehicle contrary to any rule of the road providing it is safe to do so.

A new provision has been added prohibiting the opening of the door of a motor vehicle on either side where there is traffic passing, or leave a door open unless it is reasonable safe to do so.

Many municipal by-laws prohibited backing a vehicle into a traffic lane unless the movement can be done in safety, which usually applies to diagonal parking. This provision is now included in the V.H.T. Act, so it will apply to cities, towns and villages regardless of any by-law.

The provisions requiring vehicles carrying passengers, explosives, or inflammable liquids, to stop at a railway crossing, now applies not only on the highway but in towns and villages.

Anyone under the age of 16 years shall not ride on or operate a scooter or power bicycle unless they are wearing a safety helmet. This is a new provision and also good advice for any age.

Royal Purple Officers Installed

Officers for the new year of the O.O.R.P. were installed on June 16 by DDSHRL Dorothy Weerstra of Granum assisted by PHRL Ollie Atkinson.

They are as follows: HRL, Mae Engen; IPHRL, Bea Richardson; ARL, Lil Schmidt; Loy, L. Eileen Galloway; Lec, L. Nora Leback; Secretary PHRL, Ina Ohler; Treasurer, Ruth Richardson; 3 yr. Trustee, Rose Stein; Chaplain, Adeline Lerohl; Conductress, Mary Ann Wylie; Inner Guard, Margaret Hanna; Outer Guard, Janet French; pianist, Lorna Gerding; Historian, Helen Beatty.

Fish & Game Membership Deadline Near

All big game hunters are reminded by Vulcan and District Fish and Game officials that the deadline for Fish and Game memberships is approaching. September 15 is the cut-off date for local memberships and no more can be sold beyond that date.

An affiliation with the Vulcan and district sports group entitles the holder to a chance to enter any of the many trophy competitions available each year. In other years there have been cases where non-members brought home an exceptional head or set of antlers and sought to enter the competition but this was not possible without a membership date prior to the cut-off.

In most Wildlife Management areas affecting hunters of this area the season for moose, elk, white-tail and mule deer opens on dates varying from September 14 to October 19 depending on the unit involved. Complete dates are contained on the synopsis at local licence outlets.

Former Resident Mrs. Ethel Dawson Buried At Vulcan

A well-known former resident of Vulcan, Mrs. Ethel Dawson died at Edmonton on September 1, 1965, at the age of 90 years.

Born at Dundas, P.E.I., Mrs. Dawson came to Vulcan with her husband in 1923, residing here until 1950. During that time her husband was manager of the Vulcan Co-operative Co. Mrs. Dawson was predeceased by her husband, Larry F., in 1951 and since then had resided in Edmonton.

Pall bearers were Ross Walker, Roy Fulton, Clayton MacMillan, Harold Hansen, Chauncey Layman and Roger Middleton.

Services Held For Champion Man

Donald Terence Keenan, aged 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson A. Keenan of Champion, was instantly killed in an automobile accident near Fort Macleod on Saturday, Sept. 4, 1965.

Born at Wainwright, he moved to Champion with his parents. After finishing high school there he received his chemical engineering degree at the University of Alberta in 1961 and in 1964, working for the provincial government, he received his professional engineering certificate.

Besides his parents, he is survived by a brother, Michael D. of Carmangay.

Requiem Mass was celebrated at Immaculate Conception Church, Champion, on Monday, Sept. 6, and interment was in the Champion cemetery.

Pall bearers were David Hegland, Arlen Smith, Ronald Jordan, Wayne Anderson, LaVerne Granlin and Wayne Davey. The Vulcan Funeral Home was in charge of

New Wheat Pool Elevator Opened At Herronton

The new Alberta Wheat Pool elevator at Herronton, replacing the elevator destroyed by fire early this year, was officially opened Thursday, Sept. 2.

Poll delegate Karl Christofferson was master of ceremonies for the occasion. Greetings from the Board of Directors were brought by Director Keith Rosenberger and from the management by Divisional Superintendent Joe Ferguson.

County of Vulcan Councillor Frank Thuermer cut the ribbon to mark the official opening of the new elevator and the first load officially received delivered by Sam Fox, was weighed and dumped by agent Lorne Maisey. A description of the elevator and explanation of its operation was given by Travelling Superintendent Wayne Ransome.

Mr. Fox, Wheat Pool member No. 7109, was introduced by the master of ceremonies who also presented the ticket and certificate. Also introduced was Varno Westersund, representative of the Flying Farmers of Alberta.

The new elevator has a capacity of 120,000 bushels and contains 20 bins in the annex portion. Eight electric power units give a total of 54 h.p. and the receiving scale is a 30-ton, 30-ft. platform.

All those present for the opening were served coffee and doughnuts under the direction of Mrs. Lorne Maisey and Mr. Christofferson and Mr. Westersund acted as photographers for the occasion.

Two Births At Vulcan Hospital

Only two births were recorded at the Vulcan Municipal Hospital during the month of August.

Aug. 3, to Mr. and Mrs. John Van Brunschot, Brant, a daughter. Aug. 27, to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Evenson, Vulcan, a daughter.

Couple Still On Original Homestead

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Parker of Ensign are shown left on their 66th wedding anniversary, celebrated with a family picnic at High River. They were married in 1899 at Mantli, Utah and came to Alberta in a covered wagon in 1904, homesteading in the Ensign district where they still live.

For 61 years their eyes have watched the changes wrought by progress in this part of the province. The coming of more homesteaders was accompanied by more and more fenced areas. Soon farm settlements dotted the landscape and then came the wagon trails which wandered aimlessly skirting mud holes and around hillsides. In later years the Parkers watched the advent of machine driven equipment, tractors and combines which ended the days when they had 17 horses on the farm.

Increasing use of cars and trucks brought the early dirt roads which were later gravelled, to provide ribboned divisions between sections of land and linked the province's highway system together.

With the advent of farm electricity came the network of power poles carrying transmission lines and later the accompanying rural telephone lines. Finally the Parkers are now able to travel their most familiar road, Highway 23 or the old Sunshine Trail in the comfort afforded by pavement and along the route the latest visible sign of progress, TV antennas are perched atop each farm home.

Interest in current events, politics and the changing world is still shown by the Parkers who called at the Advocate over a year ago with a rock specimen they suspected might be part of a meteorite.

It was a heavy, fused rock about six inches through which had been turned up by one of Mr. Parker's sons during the second year of breaking on a field and for years farmers around Brant became familiar with it as a door stop at the post office.

The wagon trip from Idaho in 1904 took from May 5 to June 23 and on arrival the Parkers and their two children, aged two and four years, set about establishing their livelihood. In their first year a dreaded prairie fire threatened

THE HOMEMAKER

Miss Pat Westman, District Home Economist
Box 40 Claresholm, Alta. Phone 235-3245

Today's column could be labelled "FOR MEN ONLY," however, most women take an interest in their men folk's wearables so we'll all think about a man's suit.

The man who is average or above average height and husky, should avoid napped or fuzzy fabrics. They seem to add pounds! So he's better off to choose smoother-type fabrics. The coat should have little or no waist line definition and should only have side vents if he has a fairly flat "backside."

The short stocky man looks nice in solid colors. If he chooses patterns, generally those with an up and down design are best. He should stay clear of excess shoulder padding, wide lapels, tight-waisted jackets, horizontal designs, and tweedy bulky fabrics. All of these seem to just accentuate his problem.

The man of average height and medium build seems to be the lucky one, he generally looks good in many styles and fabrics. All he needs is a bright happy smile.

The man who is short and of medium weight will look taller in a jacket that is slightly shorter than average. Lean cut trousers and cuffless pants also contribute to the vertical line.

Tall lanky fellows need a horizontal accent. Loosely fitted jackets with some shoulder padding are good. But extreme waist definition gives a leggy, bottom heavy look.

Besides deciding on what styles and fabric suit you, checking for fit is extremely important.

Relax and resist that impulse to expand your chest and pull in your mid-section (unless you can stay that way while wearing the garment!).

Fasten the middle coat button. Swing your arms as tho' walking. The collar should leave the neck at sides and back. About one half inch of shirt collar should show at the back.

The coat should just come to the top of the legs. The only men who sometimes look a little better in a shorter jacket are the short medium weight fellows.

Sleeves should come  $4\frac{1}{2}$  to 5 inches above the tip of the thumb. No more than  $\frac{1}{2}$  inch of shirt cuff should show.

The shoulder line should be smooth and unbroken. If the fabric looks taut or loose, try another size.

Trousers should fit neatly, they shouldn't break at the cuff. It's better if they just graze the tops. Not only will they look better, they'll wear longer too.

Ensign Couple Still On Original Homestead

them and Mr. Parker recalls plowing a protective back strip when suddenly the wind shifted and temporarily engulfed the outfit. Luckily Mr. Parker was only badly singed.

The Parkers had their share of problems during the winter of 1906-7, accepted as the country's worst, and they spoke of seeing about 150 head of cattle frozen through suffocation around a stack in the Blackie district where "You could walk over them back to back without hardly stepping on the ground", so tightly were they bunched. Those were the winters when the cold invaded the roughly built homes and straw tick mattresses froze to the walls.

In the days before fences the boldness of range cattle was a problem to Mrs. Parker at home with the children. Cattle would rub against the corner of the house and often she had to frighten them away by waving a white blanket at them, whistling and yelling.

Mr. Parker started with a quarter section of land about four miles from Brant and vividly remembers one of the bad early years, 1910 when there was no rainfall from June 30 to August 30. Tractors came into use in the Brant district in 1926 but for many years prosperity was a fleeting thing with agriculture in the throes of the depression-ridden thirties.

The farm picture began to improve about 1942 and farm mechanization and the resultant increasing productivity spelled better times for farmers.

The lives of the Parkers have been closely associated with the village of Brant since its formation during the spring of the same year the Parkers arrived. They have compiled a sketchy outline of the village's first years and it contains the surprising revelation to outsiders that there was once two Brants, the old town and the new town.

In 1904 the first town took root about two miles north-east of the present Brant when E. E. Thompson formed a company and was associated with the general store, livery barn and dwelling. Among first residents were C. O'Bray, Geo. Miles, T. J. Parker and families.

Rapid growth became evident and in the first few years a Dominion Day celebration drew hundreds of patrons from town and country by wagon, horseback and on foot.

Ben Stewart had contracted for the first school and he had as helpers H. Bateman, Sr. and Harold Parker.

In those years of the old and new towns many names were associated with business development. The livery barn was run by E. Taylor and Bill Thomas and the first mail contract was let to W. B. Parker which involved two trips a week to High River, Frankburg and back to Brant. Later this was increased to three trips a week. Harold Parker took over the route in 1909 and carried mail to 140 customers until the CPR started operations in 1912. Along with mail Mr. Parker carried passengers and with no roads, travel was straight cross country and over Frank Lake when it was frozen.

Oldtimers will remember other names linked with Brant's first years. First postmistress was Mrs. Kelly, sister of E. E. Thompson. Other postal men were Tommy Johns and Tim McArthur. Mr. York was local blacksmith and a tin shop was run by Mr. Thatcher, while Dr. Brown had his own office. Combining auctioneering and a butcher shop was Jack Thompson; the pool hall was run by Mr. Pratt and the Bank of Hamilton was there with manager Mr. McQuet. Real estate dealer was John Henderson and a temperance hotel was operated by "Dad" Klaus.

Within a few years of the settlement of old Brant, its future was erased with news that the CPR would not be coming its way and shortly the town began to split up. One store, the pool hall, tin shop, doctor's office and several dwellings were moved to Blackie and the rest of the buildings were dragged to the present site of Brant. In 1910 the railroad was graded, and the following year steel was laid. In 1912 mixed trains started running through Brant.

Members of the Parker family include Raymond, Christine, Brant, Blaine, Steve, Miles, Stedman and Bessie. Grandchildren are many in the Parker families. Great-grandchildren? "We don't know how many, we haven't checked the mail today", says Mr. Parker with his touch of spry humour.

On separate trips to the Advocate both Mr. and Mrs. Parker, now 85 and 83 years of age, when asked of their health replied, "Oh I'm fine but he seems to be not too well at times". They still jump into their car and go whenever they get the urge and with that attitude prevalent with both of them there is more family visiting and travelling ahead for this pioneer couple.

Pictured with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Parker above, during a visit in 1964 is a daughter, Mrs. Don P. Shidler. Mrs. Shidler was married in 1922 and moved to the U.S. two years later and is now in missionary work with the Foreign Missionary Society on the European continent.

Appoint Teachers For Anglican Sunday School

A meeting for Sunday School teachers of St. Aldhelm's Anglican Church was held Sept. 2 in the church hall. The Rev. Cowell opened the meeting with a prayer asking for God's blessing on those who teach and those who learn. He cautioned the teachers "those who really believe in God will have no trouble teaching."

Mrs. H. Mumby again accepted the position of superintendent and chose as the class teachers—Mrs. Bill Babuk, Mrs. Allan McAskile, Marilyn Joiner (teacher and organist), Marilyn Dumka, Lorraine Daniels, Barbara Babuk and Sylvia Graham. This will include a nursery for very young children. An inspiring and thoughtful address was given by Mrs. Mumby. She pointed out that the new curriculum will require a lot of hard thought and study and stressed that it is as important to do homework in a Sunday School lesson as it is in School work. "What you teach you must live as your class will be great imitators" the superintendent cautioned. The rest of the afternoon was spent in discussion and an exchange of ideas for handwork.

Sunday School will begin Sept. 12 at 11:30 a.m. Immediately after the service a parish picnic will be held at Little Bow Park. Parents are asked to accompany their children, if possible and each family will pack their own picnic lunch and all food will be pooled for pot luck.

Hamilton Exchange Group Enjoys Tour

the group toured the Queenstown colony and to those who had never seen this different way of life at first hand, it was an experience. They were shown through the colony, saw the farm machinery, school and watched the preparation of dinner.

After lunch there was another "first" for many, a horseback ride. To some this was their first view of a horse in the flesh and these youngsters were too unknowing to be cautious. Five horses were saddled up and soon four riders became unseated under abnormal conditions. It might be said in defence of the visitors that Mr. Willard's stock is not the strain that would be accepted for those midway rides at the Stampede but for the most part the eastern "cowpokes" mostly fell off and were not really thrown. No one was hurt and it was a great day.

The complete opposite panorama of the Rockies was the next experience of the visitors and this would be termed the highlight of their trip. Banff, the Cave and Basin swim, lodge at the School of Fine Arts and the many side attractions and beauties of the area were all added to the treasures which will be remembered.

"Even the wild game showed up to thrill the guests," said driver Cam Middleton. "Some bears were in the buffalo paddock and they staged a short duel with buffalo for the kids," he said.

On the Kananaskis route down to Livingstone Falls game still persisted and the easterners got their first look at a moose close-by the road. The long trip left the students famished — although drivers Middleton and Alf Little said they ate all the way — and when the barbecue at the falls was reached, a couple of hours late, Vulcan District Chamber of Commerce cooks had no trouble dispensing their fare.

The Frank Slide was impressive but the group arrived too late to get a complete visual picture of the scene of the tragedy.

The Champion Lions Club provided a fun-filled day Wednesday when they hosted the tour at Little Bow Park. Boats were available and water-skiing filled the afternoon followed by a barbecue supper.

The final day passed all too quickly as the students visited outstanding attractions in the city of Calgary and by mid-evening all were assembled at the CPR station for the final farewell. They say it was raining outside at the time but it was a little damp inside as well as new found young friends suddenly said goodbye amid flowing tears. White hats were signed, autographs and addresses were exchanged. Then the train left.

To express their appreciation to the local chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Smith of Champion, the group presented them with a glass blown vase. The eastern chaperones will be given a gift at a future gathering of the group at Hamilton.

Even Cam Middleton has something to look forward to. The Guenther's have promised him a circle of Ontario cheddar cheese.

On their arrival at County Central High School, Hamilton students here on the Centennial Youth Exchange were presented County crests and white hats as mementos of their visit to the Vulcan district. Each guest was paired with a county student for billeting and above Sally Vickers in the checkered blouse is introduced to her white hat by her host Diane Atkins.

AVOID WHEAT STEAK MOSAIC

Winter Wheat growers in southern Alberta are presently harvesting an excellent crop. In the face of this good fortune, they should not forget the problems caused by wheat streak mosaic only a year ago. This disease is a potential problem every year and growers who will be sowing winter wheat this fall are urged to follow the recommended control practices. These are:

- 1) Do not seed winter wheat before the first week of September.
- 2) Do not seed winter wheat before nearby spring wheat and barley crops are mature.
- 3) Destroy any volunteer wheat or barley on or near the field at least seven days before seeding winter wheat.

The importance of following streak mosaic control recommendations at all times was strikingly demonstrated this summer. Numerous crops of spring wheat in the Warner, Skiff, and New Dayton areas suffered severe damage from Streak Mosaic. In most cases the disease originated from volunteer winter wheat that carried the disease over winter. This volunteer growth should have been destroyed last fall or this spring before the crops were sown.

This fall many spring crops, especially those damaged by hail, will be late in maturing. These crops could be harbouring the disease-carrying mites. Winter wheat, therefore, should not be seeded nearby until after these crops have ripened.

The Canada Pension Plan and its benefits

Here is what the Canada Pension Plan will do for people like Mary Todd, a 22-year-old nurse who earns $310 a month ($3,720 a year).

If Mary's earnings continue at this rate until she reaches age 65, she will receive a retirement pension of $77.50 a month from the Plan plus $75 a month Old Age Security.

Because Mary will have the opportunity of contributing for 43 years, she can have as many as 6½ years of lower or no earnings and still be entitled to the same pension.

Actually, Mary's retirement pension will undoubtedly be more. This is because as Mary advances in her profession and her earnings increase so will her pension. Furthermore, to ensure that all benefits under the Plan maintain their value, they will be adjusted to meet changes in living costs and wage levels before they are paid and changes in living costs after they become payable.

If Mary continues to work and becomes disabled at any time after 1970, she will be entitled to a disability pension of $83.12 a month until she reaches age 65. From then on she will receive her retirement pension as well as $75 a month from Old Age Security.

If Mary dies any time after 1967, having contributed until her death, a lump sum payment of $465 will be paid to her estate.

What will the Plan cost you?

If, like Mary, you are employed and have earnings of $3,720 spread evenly over the year, you will pay at the rate of $4.68 a month. Your employer will pay the same amount.

This advertisement is one of a series which relates some of the important benefits of the Canada Pension Plan to individual circumstances.

Issued by authority of the Minister of National Health and Welfare,
Canada,
The Honourable Judy LaMarsh.
